

CREATIVE OUTDOOR DISTRIBUTOR

To Whom It May Concern:

Irving Ayash of ideal Corporate Funding worked diligently with my company to develop and deliver the financing we required. Irving worked very hard to position Creative Outdoor Distributor so that would be considered a candidate for financing which resulted in a substantial line of credit. This line of credit gave us the opportunity to sell, pay for our products and benefit from the profits without sacrificing the equity of our company.

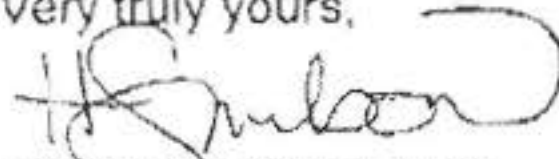

The credit line Irving Ayash developed was fair, flexible and will grow with us as our needs require.

Irving Ayash did the job that he accepted. He did it professionally, honestly and with integrity. His knowledge of the lender's requirements was phenomenal and helped us a great deal in providing the lender with the information required to fund the transaction.

Irving spent numerous hours on our account until our company was positioned to go forward. He developed a relationship on our behalf with the lender, presented a very detailed and substantial package for consideration. That package, along with the insight he provided and the willingness of the lender who relied on Irving's judgment, made the day!

Overall it was a genuine pleasure dealing with Irving Ayash and all of the Ideal Corporate Funding staff. We recommend Ideal highly to anyone seeking financial assistance.

Very truly yours,
