Dear Irving,

I am compelled to write to you to preserve and express to you and share with others the gratitude I have for the successes you have both brought and shared with me over I dare say the past four decades. We have a business relationship different from the many companies that honor you for the knowledge and creative solutions you have brought them. This is because I have come to you many times for solutions when I didn't have them and couldn't find them in my investment banking world, and there you were. Let's analyze this company together John, and look at it in a way no one has before. There's always a solution. How privileged I've been to jointly co-ordinate the launch or re-org of so many companies together.

There could be no higher privilege of mine then to recommend you to any CEO, or Company looking for funding, or alternatives backed by integrity, ethics, and experience. A distinguished staff that mirrors its leadership, and unmatched resources. I welcome inquires.

Sincerely

John Gremmo
