Interfor feels most fortunate in meeting Ideal Corporate Funding and entering into an agreement to provide financing.

Our company specializes in investigations and the recovery of assets on behalf of major law firms, judges and bankruptcy courts. To provide financing for a company like Interfor is very difficult, as all details must be kept secret due to the nature of our business.

These restrictions substantially challenged Ideal's CEO, Irving Ayash, but his experience and reputation prevailed. He developed a relationship between a quality lender and Interfor, as well as supervising the negotiation with our existing bank, ourselves and the new lender.

In the current world of financing the completion of this task could almost be considered a miracle with such great restrictions in disclosure and verification. Ideal performed admirably, timely and without hesitation – and continues to help our company grow and create solutions for everyday issues.

We highly recommend Irving Ayash and Ideal Corporate Funding if you seek a quality, talented and tenacious company dedicated to delivering financing at competitive rates.

Yours truly,

Juval Aviv
President and CEO
